

SOCIETY

THE June bride has passed. There are a few left over for July, but very few. The summer outing now has quite the absorbed attention of all the late stayers.

The White House will be a deserted mansion until October, when the Taft family returns to open its social season in earnest. Miss Helen Taft left Washington Thursday morning for New York, to be the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Taft. Her brother, Robert Alphonso, joined her there from Yale, and together with their cousins, Miss Louise Taft and Mr. Walbridge Taft, went to Port Henry, N. Y., to be the guests of Mr. Silas Witherbee, a classmate of Robert at Yale.

They will be members of his party on his father's houseboat, the Silouan, for the festivities attending the Lake Champlain tercentenary. They went to Port Henry yesterday.

Mrs. Taft, who has recovered sufficiently from her six weeks' illness to go out driving every day for a week, left the White House yesterday afternoon with the President and her sister, Mrs. Lewis More, of Cincinnati, who has been with her for two months. They went in a private car to Beverly, Mass., where they will spend the summer, the Stetson cottage having been made ready for them some days ago.

Mrs. Taft has been ill, much more so than any one has known, and it will take her some months entirely to recover her strength. Miss Taft has enjoyed her spring stay at the White House. She has been the guest of honor at numbers of little dinners and jaunts down the river in the government launches and yachts.

The Sylph will be used by the President and his family during the summer for their pleasure jaunts. The Dolphin, which is the dispatch boat of the Secretary of the Navy, is now at Newport with the Secretary and Mrs. Meyer and their daughters, Miss Eleanor Sears, of Boston, and Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth on board.

They are having a beautiful week-end and Fourth of July visit there, being entertained and entertaining some on board while the Secretary is making inspections here and there. She went around to the Brooklyn Navy Yard some time ago to await the arrival of Mrs. Meyer and her daughters, and the Secretary went over and joined them in time to make the trip to Hamilton with them, thence on to Newport.

There is not a Cabinet hostess left in town. Miss Flora Wilson, the Cabinet prima donna, was the last to leave, and went last Wednesday, having been detained here a week longer than she had planned. She sailed for Naples, to remain abroad until August, when she will return to sing on the Pacific Coast, appearing first at the exposition in Seattle, and later in the cities along the Coast to Los Angeles, and then in the Western cities. Miss Wilson is an enthusiast and a hard worker.

Miss Helen Cannon, daughter of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who remained in their home here unusually late, also left last week. She sailed for a motor trip on the Continent with her old friend, Miss Amy Gillette, formerly of Danville, Ill., who has lived in Washington ever since she came to visit Miss Cannon three years ago. She built a handsome house in Sheridan circle, or Millionaires' Circle, as it is known, and sold it a few weeks ago, previous to putting up another and more pretentious one.

George M. Pullman has begun work on her mansion in his magic circle, and hopes to occupy it some time next season.

PERSONALS.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Beekman Winthrop are spending the week-end and the Fourth of July holiday at Hamilton, Mass., as the guests of Mr. Winthrop's brother, Mr. Frederick Winthrop, at Groton House.

Mrs. Foraker and young Arthur Foraker, wife and son of former Senator Joseph B. Foraker, closed their Washington home yesterday and went to Bryn Mawr, Pa., making the trip by automobile. The former Senator, who is now in the old home in Bryn Mawr, will spend the summer with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Francis King Walworth, and after a short visit with them they will go to Maine for the rest of the summer.
